a call to sustainable harmony

ID Fine designs porcelain with a clear purpose: to support professional dining environments through simplicity, elegance, and long-term value. Guided by our Define Dining philosophy, we believe that innovation in HoReCa should not create constant pressure for renewal or replacement. For this reason, each new collection is developed to work seamlessly with existing ranges, enabling chefs and food & beverage professionals to evolve their concepts while protecting previous investments.

This approach comes to life through Sustainable Harmony—a system that goes beyond the traditional Mix & Match concept. While combining collections is not new within the HoReCa sector, Sustainable Harmony transforms this practice into a sustainable, flexible, and long-term strategy. Designed according to timeless principles, our collections ensure continuity and compatibility across past, present, and future assortments. This allows professionals to refresh their tabletop presentations without replacing current stock, supporting creative freedom alongside operational efficiency.

three brands one vision

Through ID Fine, Roots by ID Fine, and 1972 by ID Fine, we offer a holistic platform that addresses diverse professional needs while remaining united under a single vision. The modular structure enables personalized presentations, strategic stock management, and adaptability across a wide range of dining concepts. Unlike Mix & Match, which focuses solely on visual composition, Sustainable Harmony integrates design intelligence, planning, creativity, and commercial performance.

The resulting system delivers value across the entire HoReCa ecosystem: more efficient stock management for distributors, greater presentation flexibility for restaurants, and the freedom for chefs to develop and sustain their own signature styles. Sustainable Harmony is more than an aesthetic choice—it is a strategic approach to professional dining, where sustainability and sophistication coexist in long-term balance.
